Thomas Ryan, of 187 Wooster street, was vesterday charged before Commissioner Spields with dealing in cigars and liquor without paving the special tax required by law. He was held in $500 all to await an examination.

Julius Fatton, a Post Office clerk, in station E. Eighth avenue, was yesterday charged before Commissioner Shields with embezzing a letter contain. ing money. The letter was what is known as "a test letter." Defendant waived an examination and was committed in default of $5,000 bail to await the action of the Grand Jury.

A trunk, marked C. E. W. and containing four silk dresses, nine cotton dresses, two bonnets and other wearing apparel supposed to have been smuggled, was condemned yesterday in the United States District Court, no owner appearing to claim the property.

Judge Blatchford sat yesterday in the United States District Court, and made adjudications and beard motions in bankruptcy.

Judge Larremore, holding Special Term of the Court of Common Pleas demed yesterday, as will be seen in his published opinion in the case given in full below, the application for a mandamus against the Board of Apportionment made on behalf of the clerks of the bld Bureau of Elections.

THE OLD BUREAU OF ELECTIONS.

First Disposal of the Application for s Peremptory Mandamus Against the Board of Apportionment-The Application Denied by Judge Larremore-His Opinion in the Matter.

The old Bureau of Elections, with Cornelius Corson as its chief, and five clerks under him, besides a stenographer and messenger, had, to borrow a modern phrase, "a soit thing of it." Corson, the head and front of the Bureau, received $6,000 salary, and the clerks and oothers were propertionately well paid, the aggregate of the annual pay roll being $22,500. In April, 1870, the Bureau was organized, and, with a single exception, everything went on swimmingly—that is to say, with very little to do, except to draw their salaries, until by enactment its onerous duties were transferred to the Police Department. The single exception referred to was that after January 1, 1872, the Comptroller rejused to pay their salaries on the ground that no appropriation had been made. Under this state of affairs the claimants sold their claims, amounting to $10,752 61, to Patrick McMullen, the first clerk, and the latter, having exhausted his powers of persuasion upon the Comptroller and Board of Apportionment, thought he would try what, virtue there was in the law. He applied for a writ of peremptory mandamus against the Board of Apportionment, directing it to apportion the sum required to cover the claim. The case went first before Judge Larremore, holding special Term of the Court of Common Pleas, and then before Judge Van Brunt, of the same Court, and finally before Judge Larremore again. The latter judge brought the case to a close yesterday by denying the application. His reasons for so doing are embodied in the following opinion:

OPINION OF JUDGE LARREMORE.

When this application was first heard before me direction was made that the respondents meet and take action upon the relator's claim. By the return field it appears that such direction was complied with, and that said Board, by the concurrent votes of all its members, and appropriation was made tor its payment by the Board of Apportionment for that year. The main question presented for adjudication is whether the existing Roard of Apportionment was created, consisting of the Mayor, the Comptroller, the Commissioner of Public Works and the President of the Department of Public Parks, who were directed to fix the amount to be raised by taxation in the years 1871 and 1872, and, after setting apart so much as would be necessary to pay the interest on the public debt, State tax, &c., to apportion the remainder, thereof among and set apart to the various departments of the city and county government. Said Board was therein further direct say, with very little to do, except to draw their sal aries, until by enactment its onerous duties apart so much as would be necessary to pay the interest on the public debt, State tax, &c., to apportion the remainder thereof among and set a; at to the various departments of the city and county government. Said board was therein further directed to meet on May 1, 1874, and fix, set apart and apportion in the same manner the sum to be raised in 1874 and was authorized in each of said years to limit and transfer said appropriation. By a subsequent act, passed May 13, 1873, chapter 674, the said Board was further authorized to fix the amount to be raised for the year 1872, and set apart the moneys required, and make apportionment thereof from time to time on or before July 1, 1872, and also to reconsider and again determine, and as often as might be necessary defore the date last mentioned), redetermine any and every amount that had been or might thereafter be fixed, set apart and apportioned by said Board. The intention of the Legislature to have the amounts so raised and appropriated on the years 1871 and 1872 fixed and determined by a special authority, is thus clearly expressed. The existing Board of Estimate and Apportionment, composed or the Mayor, the Comptroller, the President of the Department of Taxes and Assessments, is another and different Board than that created by chapter 583, Laws of 1871. The authority to fix and appropriate the moneys to be raised by taxation for county purposes, presented and controlled (chapter 578, Laws 1871), the provisions of which, so far as they might affect the apportionment for the years 1871 and 1872, were repealed by the said chapter 53 of the Laws of 1871. It is evident that the respondents have just succeeded to the rights and duties of the special Board created by the last mentioned act. No such authority is expressly inferred by the statute, or can be fairly implied therefrom. Having reached this conceision it is unnecessary to pass upon the other questions raised upon the able and exempted to the rights and unless of the special Board created by the last mentio

BUSINESS IN THE OTHER COURTS.

SUPREME COURT-CHAMBERS. Sheriff Brennan's Fees and Rent of the Ninth Regiment Armory.

Before Judge Pratt,

Returns were made in this Court yesterday to the alternative mandamuses against the Comptroller-one on behalf of Sheriff Brennan, claiming 1872, and the other on behalf of Charles H. Johnson 1872, and the other on beam of charles at Solaron for $27,000, rent of the Ninth Regiment Armory, corner of Twenty-seventh street and Ninth avenue, Mr. John S. Strahan, counsel for the relators, ob-jected to the returns made as not sworn to, and moved that they be stricken out, unless the Comptroller swears to them.

Mr. Carter, counsel for the Comptroller, argued that there was no law to compel the returns to be sworn to.

Mr. Strahan said that whenever application of this character is made the Court exercises its discretion and orders the returns to be sworn to. This was done by Judge Barrett in the Grant case. He had special reason for making the application, for the Comptroller comes into Court by these returns, and makes statements over his signature which he wouldn't make if under oath—amongst others that the Board of Supervisors did not audit these claims of the Sheriff.

It was finally arranged that the counsef submit

It was finally arranged that the counsel submit briefs to-day embodying the statutes on the re-spective points raised.

The Case of Annie Rosenberg. Annie Rosenberg, a pretty looking girl, about afteen years of age, was brought into Court on a writ of habeas corpus and certiorari, by Mr. Ansbacher, who asked for her discharge from the Heuse of the Good Shepherd, on the ground of discrepancy between the commitment by Justice Grepancy between the commitment by Justice Shandley and the return made to the certiorari. The commitment stated that the girl was sent to the institution named on her concession that she was a prostitute, and the return to the writ, made by a person named Abraham Marks, who lives in Pearl street, was that Annie is his niece, and that she had been living with a man not her husband. Judge Pratt, remarking that he could see nothing inconsistent between the statements, ordered the writ to be dismissed.

A Lawyer Loses His Papers.

The case of Novarro vs. Green, which was a me tion to quash an alternative mandamus against the Comptroller, granted by Judge Fancher, ordering him to show cause why he should not pay $300,000 for water metres supplied to the Department of Public Works, came up for hearing, but there was a fatal hitch in the proceedings. Mr. Carter, counsel for the Comptroller, announced that he had lost his papers! He said he had made search everywhere, and even advertised for them, but all to no purpose. Mr. Vanderpoel objected to any adjournment, as the relator had got the proper cer-tificate showing he was entitled to payment, and the Comptroller gave no reason for not paying. He added, moreover, that he would lend the gen-tieman aories. After some discussion the case was set down for to-day.

The Case of Mr. Van Name. Application was made for the release of Mr. Van lame, President of the Market Savings Bank. There was a lengthy argument, but wholly on technical points. The Judge took the papers. Decisions.

COURT OF EYER AND TERMINER. Another Application for the Discharge of the stokes Witnesses. Before Judge Davis.

After a respite from the 3d of July the Court of Oyer and Terminer met again yesterday morning. It had been rumored that counsel for the convict ed fratricide, Frank Walworth, were going to take some action regarding a oill of exceptions in the case, and the fesuit was a large crowd in attendance. Nothing, however, was done in the case and the session was very brief, the only business brought before the Court being a renewal of the application made before Judge Pratt in Supreme Court Chambers, and by him denied, for the discharge of Court Chambers, and by him denied, for the discharge of

THE STOKES WITNESSES

Patrick and Thomas Hart and Join Redmond, from the House of Detention. Mr. John O. Mott, their counsel, said that these three notel servants had been confined in the House of Detention as witnesses in the Stokes case over a year, that they had no intention or going away, and that they are unable to find the security in $5,000 which they are unable to find the security in $5,000 which they are ordered to find by the Court. He also contended that the law or 1845, under which the order was made, did not authorize the Court to require more than the personal recognizance of the witnesses. Judge Pratt having recused an application to discharge the witnesses, he asked the Oyes and Terminer Court to modify its order and let the witnesses out on their personal recognizances. The matter was postponed to Tuesday morning, that the District Attorney may have timely notice, and the Court adjourned to that morning.

COURT OF GENERAL SESSIONS. Empanuelling of the Grand Jury.

Before Recorder Hackett.

The Grand Jury was sworn in yesterday. Roland S. Doty was appointed foreman, and after a brief charge by the Recorder they entered upon the discharge of their duties. Before the Court adjourned in the afternoon the Grand Inquest came into Court with a number of indictments against prisoners charged with burgiary and grandlarceny. This prompt action on the part of the Grand Jury will enable the Recorder and the prosecuting officer to dispose of all the prison cases in a few days.

Moore and Fullan were each sent to the State Prison for five years. Miskell, who was only seventeen years of age, was sent to the Penitentiary for the same period.

An Attempt at Burglary. Adolphus Lohman and George O'Keefe on the entrance into the jewelry store of Charles Runkel, 485 Ninth avenue, and stole a number of silver watches valued at $273. O'Keefe pleaded guilty to an attempt and was sent to the State Prison for two years.

$12, pleaded guilty to petty larceny from the per-son. The sentence imposed was three years' im-prisonment in the Penitentiary.

Thomas Kelly and William Hannon pleaded guilty to a simple assault, the indictment charging that on the 7th of July they assaulted Daniel Sullivan in Water street, with intent to steal money and a watch. They were each sent to the Penitentiary lor six months.

Stealing Furs in Summer. John Rademacher, on the 4th of June, pleaded guilty to an attempt at larceny. He was charged with stealing a quantity of furs from his employer, Sylvester Brush, on the 2sth of March, and re-manded to be used as a witness against the re-ceiver of the stolen goods, who, it appears, died last week. Rademacher was sent to the Peniten-tiary for three months. A Fugitive Burglar Brought to Bay.

James S. Smith, alias "Big Munday," who was ointly indicted with William Davis for burglary in the third degree, pleaded guilty. On the 26th of the third degree, pieaced guilty. On the 25th of April, 1872, they broke into the carriage factory of Edward M. Corbett, 214 East Twenty-sixth street, and stole silk and rep cloths and plated ware, the aggregate value of which was $800. Smith was ar-rested in a Western city and brought back to New York. He was remanded till Friday for sentence,

A River Thief Convicted. Stephen Dillon, who was jointly indicted with John Walsh, was tried and convicted of grand lar-John Walsh, was tried and convicted of grand larceny. The prosecution showed to the satisfaction of the jury that on the 23d of June twenty-eight pigs of iron, the property of the Alientown Iron Company, were stolen from a dock in Hoboken, and that at half-past three on the same morning the prisoners were found in possession of this iron by two of the narbor policemen, who arrested them as they were approaching the pier at the foot of Houston street. Dilion swore that he bought the giron of a captain for $15. Mr. Mitchell defended the accused. The case was so clear that the jury rendered a verdict of guilty without leaving their seats. His Honor in passing sentence said that he was bound, if possible, to check the depredations which river thieves were making upon our commerce. Dilion got the full penalty, which was five years in the State Prison.

YORKVILLE POLICE COURT.

Alleged Arson. Emma Orlak, a young German woman, and her rother, have for some time past been occupants of a suit of rooms on the first floor of the premises 1,142 Second avenue. About a month since, it is alleged, she insured a trunk for $700 in the Star Fire insurance Company, to the officers of which she represented the contents of her trunk to be worth at least five hundred dolars. On Monday morting she gave notice to her landlord of her intention to move away the following day, and being alone in the place, she got a young lady residing in the same house so sleep with her that night. This young lady states that Emma got up twice during the night, and each time, after her return to bed, the girl states, great puffs of smoke issued from the adjoining room, into which Emma had been on both occasions. This strange discovery did not, however, seem to bother her very much until she discovered a jet of flame bursting its wather the state of the state of the present the state of the state s alleged, she insured a trunk for $700 in the Star emma had been on oots occasions. This strange discovery did not, however, seem to bother her very much until she discovered a jet of fame bursting its way through between the door and the jam. She then jumped out of bed and gave the alarm, which was almost instantly responded to by a policeman, who, with the assistance of the other inmates in the house, extinguished the flames, which they found were spreading from the aforesaid valuable trunk in every direction. The Fire Marshal, who has taken charge of this trunk, says that half a dozen of the same kind would not contain clothing valued at $500, and, from all the circumstances in the case, he believes it to be an attempt the most daring to set fire to the building or, at least, to burn up the trunk and its contents, so that the insurance could be recovered. In order to see whether or not the Marshal's theory has any foundation the case was set down for examination, pending which Emma was committed by Justice Hogan at the above Court.

Daring Highway Robbery.

On Monday evening Carl Augustus Scholin, of leecker street, was attacked on Third avenue by an alleged highway robber and relieved of his watch. As the thief was in the act of running off he was collared by a policeman, who found the watch in his pocker. At the station house he gave his name as John Murray, no residence. He was committed for trial at the above Court.

A Murderous Assault. A colored man named Thomas Diederick, resid ing at 223 West For y-second street, beat his wife in a most brutal manner on Monday evening. He was arrested yesterday by officer o'Brien, of the Twenty-se ond precinct, and taken to Court, where he was locked up on complaint of the oill-cer, the wise being unable to appear.
